

Smoke Signals Radio Archive Episode 1997-02-07
Segment 5
Episode Air Date: 1997-02-07

Dan Smoke recaps a talk given by Patricia Monture-Okanee about the Royal Commission Report on Aboriginal Peoples.

Host(s): Dan Smoke

DAN SMOKE: That was Patricia Monture-Okanee of the Mohawk Nation. And she was speaking on the Royal Commission Report on Aboriginal Peoples at McGill University this past weekend, this past Saturday. And we were there to record her and to talk with her. It was really nice to visit with her. And she is also a published author, "Thunder in my Heart" is the name of her book. It's a journey into her healing journey and into how she has achieved self-empowerment.

DS: So, with that, we're going to listen to Chief Jeff. Chief Jeff, his real name is Jeff Monague. He is actually a chief of the Christian Island First Nations up near, it's at, I'm sorry, I can't think of the name right now. But he's got a CD out called Reservation Line, and this is "Rodeo Clown," here on Smoke Signals.