DAN SMOKE: That was the Tribal Five featuring Mark Beachey, and they hail from Sarnia from the Sarnia First Nation. Now, we're going to hear some of our community announcements right in our own nation, right in our own community here in London. Mary Lou will share those with us.

[Mary Lou continues with community announcements]

DS: Miigwetch, Mary Lou. I just have a couple items I'd like to add to that.

[Dan continues with community announcements]

On January the 20th, Joanne Shenandoah will be performing at the presidential inauguration at the Hyatt in Washington, D.C. We really congratulate Joanne, member of the Oneida Nation, a sister who is really being an effective voice for all First Nations people. And on that note, on behalf of Mary Lou Smoke, my co-hostess, Hal Gilpin, and our brother John Turner who has just joined us, we would like to close for the week with her song "In a Minute" from her album Joanne Shenandoah. Onen ki' wahi, gawaabamin.
